

Wroxeter (=.....) : Structure Comfort Leisure: Religion: Public places: Hygiene:	York (=.....) : Structure Comfort Leisure: Religion: Public places: Hygiene:	Lincoln (=.....) : Structure Comfort Leisure: Religion: Public places: Hygiene:
St Albans (=.....) : Structure Comfort Leisure: Religion: Public places: Hygiene:	A map of Roman Britain showing the island of Great Britain. A thick black line represents Hadrian's Wall, stretching across the northern part of the island. Several black dots are placed across the island, representing the locations of Roman sites. Arrows point from each dot to a text box in the surrounding grid. The text boxes are: Wroxeter (top left), York (top middle), Lincoln (top right), St Albans (middle left), Colchester (middle right), Bath (bottom left), London (bottom middle), and Canterbury (bottom right). A scale bar at the bottom left shows distances in miles (0, 50, 100) and kilometers (0, 50, 100, 150). A small copyright notice '© world' is at the bottom right of the map.	Colchester (=.....) : Structure Comfort Leisure: Religion: Public places: Hygiene:
Bath (=.....) : Structure Comfort Leisure: Religion: Public places: Hygiene:	London (=.....) : Structure Comfort Leisure: Religion: Public places: Hygiene:	Canterbury (=.....) : Structure Comfort Leisure: Religion: Public places: Hygiene: